- Source has furnished the following details on the political complexion and background of the dissident aprists group in Feru, known as the Third Front of APR.*:
 - a. Magda Portal, leader of the dissidents and formerly prominent in APR.'s activities, received fifty thousand soles from the government for the anti-APRA compaign. Part of this sum was used to finance the publication of 20,000 copies of a pamphlet which violently attacked laye de la force and other present party leaders.
 - b. Hernan Boggio, another dissident leader, was secretary of organization for APRA in 1946. He broke with the party when he failed to receive a cabinet post under Bustamente. Later he was imprisoned for embeziling public funds in the construction of public works in Funo and Mollendo. Boggio is an engineer.
 - c. David Tojada, at whose howe the dissidents met in their June concress, is a former Aprista associated with Boggio.
 - d. The dissidents have been assisted in their propaganda activities by other APRa renegades such as Napoleon Tello, Alfonso Tealdo, Esmaro Salas, and Manual Capunay, a close associate of Tealdo's. Tello edits the magazine Cocodrilo which appears irregularly, and realdo edited the publication DDF during the recent electoral campaign.
 - e. Other individuals in the dissident group have been in the pay of the 25X1X
- reports that the representatives sont by the dissidents to the north, center and south of the country to recruit delegates for the June congress in Lima were able to rully only 32 individuals, and all of these were well-known to APA, as party traitors.

25X1X The dissidents are said to favor the provious "anti-United States imperialism" stand of AFRA. Column that the dissidents now maintain contact with members of the Peruvian Communist Party (PCP), although this has not been confirmed 25X1X
